University of Queensland

Michael Waterman

University of Southern California

Ron Shamir

Tel-Aviv University

David Haussler

Howard Hughes Medical Institute,
University of California at Santa Cruz

ISMB 2003

- The world's largest bioinformatics conference
- Over 1500 delegates from 40 countries
- Attendees will include computer scientists, molecular and genomic biologists, mathematicians, statisticians, information technologists and software developers
- First time in the Asia-Pacific region

Organised in association with the Institute for Molecular Bioscience (IMB) and the Advanced Computational Modelling Centre
(ACMC) at The University of Queensland

Brisbane, Australia, 29 June - 3 July 2003
