The International Society for Computational and the African Society for Bioinformatics and Computational Biology are pleased to once again join together to host the ISCB Africa ASBCB Conference on Bioinformatics in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, March 09 -11, 2015.

This international conference features over 35 scientific talks and poster sessions in a broad bioinformatics scope that include a special focus on infectious diseases relevant to Africa. Expecting to draw 100 scientific researchers from around the world, the ISCB-Africa ASBCB Conference on Bioinformatics is a must attend in 2015.

SPONSOR & EXHIBIT
ISCB-Africa ASBCB offers specialized opportunities for advertising and sponsorship. Sponsors and exhibitors have the unique opportunity to reach audiences from the whole African continent in addition to many European scientists that also attend. Show your support for science in Africa by exhibiting or sponsoring.
