

GREAT LAKES BIOINFORMATICS CONFERENCE

24-27 MAY 2027
GRAND RAPIDS, MI

The International Society for Computational Biology (ISCB) is excited to invite you to the 18th Annual Great Lakes Bioinformatics (GLBIO) Conference, taking place on May 24-27, 2027 at the Van Andel Institute & GVSU.

The geographic area of the United States and Canada surrounding the Great Lakes has a large and diverse bioinformatics and computational community. An important goal for the conference is to bring the community together to share cutting-edge science, foster long-term collaborative relationships, and build networks within the domain of computational approaches to biology.
